

Smith-Chapel

Aligoté, the grape of the people, unsung hero of the region. This is organically farmed Aligoté doré from the village of Igé, in the Mâconnais department of Burgundy. The vines are grown on a single-parcel of an east-facing slope with marl and calcaire soil, marking the wine with a saline-citrus note.

Wine profile

Salty lemonade with a lick of limestone.

A Philosophy of Winemaking

Destemmed, No SO2 added at pressing, indigenous yeast, fermentation in inox.

Aging

In stainless steel for 7 months.

Appellation:	Bourgogne-Aligoté
Lieu-dit:	Igé, Mâconnais
Grape Variety:	Aligoté Doré
Alcohol:	12 %
Soil composition:	Clay and Limestone. Marl Soils.
Culture :	Organic
Harvest:	Hand harvested. Whole cluster.